An Accused Kidnap Escapes Jail

DES ARC, Ark. (AP) — An accused kidnaper who escaped from the Prairie County Jail tricked a Des Arc couple into driving him to North Little Rock, Sheriff S. E. Grady reported Monday night.

Grady said that Daniel Lon Graham, 30, of Springfield, awakened the couple about 3:20 a.m. Monday and told them some of his relatives had been hurt and he needed to go to Little Rock to catch a plane.

The sheriff said the couple drove Graham to the North Little Rock city limits, where the escapee got out of the car at a service station ostensibly to call a cab to pick him up.

Grady said Graham, whom the couple didn't know, paid $50 for the ride, but that they gave him back $20.

He was still at large Monday night.

Graham is charged with the Dec. 16 kidnaping of Margaret Clayton, 53, wife of a DeValls Bluff bank official. She had told authorities she was kidnaped for $15,000 ransom and was driven 200 miles to Alma, where the payoff was made by her husband and she was freed.

Graham was discovered missing from his cell Monday morning.

Grady said he didn't believe the prisoner could have escaped the jail unless his cell door was inadvertently left unlocked by officers or someone found a set of keys hidden in the jail and opened the cell.

Through the efforts of the Jr. Auxiliary and Bill Cross, Hospital Administrator, the Hempstead County Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary was organized June 24, 1969.

At present, the membership includes 55 ladies and is open by invitation to all women who are interested in community health, and who will abide by all objectives of Memorial Hospital and the Auxiliary.

The purpose of this organization is to give service to Memorial Hospital and its patients through ways approved by the Administrator of the Hospital. (All undertakings must have the approval of the Hospital's Administrator and Governing Board.)

Working in shifts from 9 a. m. to 8 p.m. 7 days a week, the ladies have many duties to perform. Visitors' desks are set up in both the front and the back lobbies of the Hospital from which visiting hours are controlled.

Only members of the patient's families and ministers are permitted to visit during non-visiting hours. This is for the welfare of the patients and at the same time, makes it much easier and faster for the doctors to make rounds, the nurses to bathe patients and change beds, and the maids to clean rooms.

The patient register is kept up to date, the mail sorted and delivered, flowers are delivered to patients as soon as they arrive, instead of waiting for a nurse to find time to deliver them. Messages are delivered to patients not permitted to have visitors. Outside errands are often run for a patient. Families of accident or critical patients especially from out of town, are always contacted to see if they need anything from a cup of coffee to a place to sleep.

January 17, 1970 the Auxiliary opened a new Gift Shoppe located in the front lobby of the hospital. The ladies will keep the shop open 7 days a week, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the convenience of visitors and the patients. Items in the shop range from flower arrangements, cosmetics, toys and candy to toothbrushes. All profits from the shop will be put back into the Hospital for various projects.

the ladies will undertake such as new equipment.

This is just an example of the services the Auxiliary Ladies give daily. Since October 1, 1969 these ladies have given a total of 2,320 hours of volunteer service in the Hospital.

The doctors, nurses, administrative staff and governing board all agree, the ladies in the gold smocks are an asset to the Hospital and the community.

Hempstead county Memorial Hospital is a non-profit general community hospital which opened on September 20, 1955, replacing the Julia Chester Hospital. The facilities of the Hospital today include 62 beds and 10 bassinets. There are eight doctors on the staff, two consulting physicians, and 100 employees.

Some TV Sets Explode or Catch Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Commission on Product Safety says 122 models of color television sets have been exploding or catching fire at an above-average rate.

The commission's decision Monday to identify the models brought an accusation from the Electronics Industries Association that the commission was creating an unfair competitive advantage for some manufacturers.

The commission said the nation's 22 million color sets have been catching fire at the rate of 12 per 100,000. It said the sets it identified were igniting at the rate of 30 per 100,000.

Olympic television sets manufactured by Lear Siegler Corp. averaged the highest rate in the industry, the commission said. It said nine of the firm's models were identified as potential hazards.

The other firms identified as exceeding the industry average were, in descending order: Packard Bell, Magnavox, Sylva, Philco-Ford, and RCA.

Five firms were identified as having an incidence rate below the industry average, although some models caught fire at the 30-per-100,000 rate. The firms in descending order, were: General Electric, Admiral, Motorola, Emerson and Warwick (Sears).

The commission, which has been conferring with the industry for three months on the issue, sent letters asking the manufacturers to recall, repair or replace faulty sets.

Commission chairman Arnold B. Elkind said some sets on the list might not be fire hazards but he added the information should be furnished to the public "rather than risk the consequences of fires in color television receivers."

In attacking the commission's action, Jack Wyman, staff vice president of the electronics association, said the report "will result in unduly alarming the public about the relatively limited problem." He said the problem of fires is small compared with the number of sets in American homes. "Television sets are safe products," he said.

MUSIC CLUB MEETS

Following the theme, Cultivating International Relationships Through Folk Music, Mrs. Tom Hays, Jr. presented a varied program at the Friday Music Club meeting on January 23 in the home of Mrs. W.E. White.

Accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Strech at the piano, Mrs. Hays sang the Scottish "Comin' Through the Rye," Mrs. B.C. Hyatt played Flemish, Dutch and English dances on the Piano. A guest performer, Miss Juanita Nicholson, accompanied herself on the piano for singing a Russian folk song and played the guitar while she sang a Jewish folk song.

In a more familiar vein, Mrs. Donald Mushtare, pianist, played "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and Mrs. Hays sang "Barbra Ellen" with Mrs. Strech at the piano. Then, with Mrs. Hyatt accompanying, all joined in singing several American folk songs.

Mrs. Clarence Geist, president, conducted the business meeting time at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Joe Eason revealed plans for the Parade of American Music to be observed in February.

After Mrs. Charles Boyson told the background story of the Hymn of the Month, "Love Divine," all joined in singing it. In addition to the performer, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. Ford Ward was also a guest.

As the 22 arrived, they were served pie, mints, coffee or spiced tea by the co-hostesses, Mrs. White, Mrs. Strech and Mrs. Baisson.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon appeared on television Monday night to explain to the American people his reasons for vetoing the $19.7-billion appropriation for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments—more than $1 billion over the amount he asked for.

He explained in simple terms his concern about increased living costs, said the measure was inflationary, and pledged that if his veto is sustained, "no school will be closed, no child denied an education." Then the President, in view of the TV audience, signed his veto message.

It was an effective use of television and a departure from tradition.

But his appearance on short notice was rough on network scheduling. ABC interrupted a feature film for the period of the address, less than 15 minutes. NBC postponed the start of its Monday night movie feature. CBS pre-empted a half-hour program, "Mayberry, R.F.D." and filled the time left in the 30-minute period with two congressional arguments for and against the President's position.

Rep. John Brademas, D-Ill., called the Nixon talk misleading and fired off statistics like machine-gun bursts to support his point. Rep. Albert H. Reiter, R-Minn., spoke for the President's anti-inflation point of view. Dan Rather of CBS, in a post-speech analysis, called the veto a political move in an election year.

Bette Davis, theoretically the guest star, took over Monday night's episode of "It Takes a Thief."

Miss Davis, who seemed to enjoy the nonsense, was seen on the ABC hour as Bessie Grindle, a successful lady thief who had fallen on hard times because of age, arthritis and safes that are harder to crack.

It was really not much of a script, but Miss Davis swept gaily through several disguises and overcame the sticky dialogue neatly. Robert Wagner, the star of the show, was more or less in the background in a story about how Bessie took her revenge on an old enemy.

Bette Davis is a frank and interesting personality who would be welcome on television more often.

HELEN HELP US!
by Helen Bottel

WHEN DOES A GIRL OUTGROW THE "SECOND TABLE?"

Dear Helen: We were at a family reunion that included close friends. It was in a big hall and the adults were supposed to line up on one side for steak dinners, while the "children" got hamburgers in another part of the room.

That's just fine for kids. My little brother would eat a hamburger any day instead of a steak. But I'm almost 15—and the guy I wanted to sit with is 17. I got put over with the babies, but he ate with the adults. The cut-off was 16, you see.

There was only one person near my age at the "second table" and he was a creep who acted like six!

It's no wonder kids my age shudder when someone mentions "family dinner." I think they want us along mainly so we'll babysit the younger ones. Besides, I prefer steak.

What do you think of this?—SECOND STRING SUE

Dear Sue: I think the planners goofed. It's permissible to serve both hamburgers and steak at a big dinner where there are many small children, but the second-table thing not only causes hard feelings among teens but usually becomes a food-throwing bedlam.

As you say, it's no wonder young people groan at family reunions. Here's one who doesn't script, but Miss Davis swept gaily through several disguises and overcame the sticky dialogue neatly. Robert Wagner, the star of the show, was more or less in the background in a story about how Bessie took her revenge on an old enemy.

Bette Davis is a frank and interesting personality who would be welcome on television more often.

Bob Hope's Christmas show on NBC Jan. 15 was seen in almost 28-million homes which was, according to the network's audience research department, the largest audience in TV history for one program shown on a single network. Second on the list was the final episode of ABC's "The Fugitive" in the summer of 1967.

The 90-minute special of course topped the national Nielsen ratings list for the week ending Jan. 18 and the Dean Martin Show was second and "Mayberry R.F.D." was third.

—and her thoughts are so refreshing I want to share them with my readers:

Dear Helen: Last night after all the guests had gone and the last dish was finally put away, I got to thinking about family reunions and put my thoughts down on paper. Mom suggested I send them to you, so here is:

WHAT IS A FAMILY REUNION?

A family reunion is being informed by some dozen relatives that you've certainly grown. (You mean everyone else hasn't shrunk?)

It's the chance to show off the new color TV. . . Then an argument between your brother and cousins over which game to watch, while the younger kids shout for comics. But the dispute settles itself nicely when the TV refuses to function.

A reunion is eagerly watching for the arrival of a distant, related family with their cute college-freshman son—only to find out he is spending the weekend at his girl friend's home.

It is Grandad falling asleep during Grace.

It is two drumsticks, and three small cousins.

It's making a wish on the wishbone and having BOTH ends break half way up.

A reunion is everybody talking at top voice—and then a sudden quiet lull, just as you say to an understanding second cousin, "But he kisses to licky."

Oh boy, the kidding!

It's holding the newest baby but not having to change his diaper.

It's teasing your favorite nephew, and playing street-ball after dinner.

A reunion is everyone very politely eating the squash ambrosia you thought looked so fantastic in the cook book.

It's your brother dreamily eating the contents of the cornucopia centerpiece. ("Oh, is THAT what it was?")

It's cleaning up and trying to fit the leftovers into the refrigerator. ("What should we do with all this squash ambrosia?")

It's doing the dishes with your two female cousins in a fit of giggles.

A family reunion is for putting aside your unhappiness and discontent and realizing how lucky you are to have such nice "people." If I could live the last one over again, I wouldn't change a minute of it!—THANKFUL

Young Mothers Allowed to Attend School

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — School officials are developing more enlightened policies dealing with the growing numbers of pregnant teen-agers, including keeping them in school and assuring the medical care, according to a report to a conference on adolescent parents.

The weekend conference also was told the change in policies, including an end to punitive expulsions, results in a lower dropout rate for girls, much better health for mother and baby and fewer repeat pregnancies.

Pregnant teen-agers were "an unserved population until a few years ago," Dr. Dorothy Lyons, a Los Angeles physician who began a pioneer program to help them in 1962, said during the "Parenthood in Adolescence" conference.

"Most had been kicked out of school and sent to a home or relative," she said.

Few got regular medical attention or nutritional advice, she said, heightening the risk which teen-age mothers already face in birth. Their births frequently were premature and premature babies are more susceptible to mental retardation and deformities, Dr. Lyons said.

And the newly delivered mother who was allowed or who chose to return to school was a rarity. At least 50 per cent of the female dropouts from high school are pregnant, she said.

Followup studies on the 300 girls in the seven Los Angeles special schools show nearly all return to graduate, many go on to college when they might not have before, and some use scholarships which they had been awarded before they got pregnant.

Equipped with more information about themselves and family planning methods, Dr. Lyons said, most do not become pregnant again, and many have successful careers or professions. Young women tend to produce deformed children, she said.

"We keep them in the classroom right up to delivery," she said. "They may have their first labor pains there. They come back 10 days after delivery and stay for 6 to 8 weeks and then return to the regular school," Dr. Lyons said.

Dr. Carl R. Komer, director of special education at Kalamazoo, Mich., schools, said his countywide program serves about 80 girls at any one time out of the population of 200,000.

Two Games Scheduled Here Tonight

By KALPER ROUNTON

Looking forward toward the basketball stage, the Hope Junior Girls, Senior Girls, and Junior Boys will host the Mineral Springs Hornets tonight at the Mineral Springs High School gymnasium, with the opening tip-off at 6:00 p.m.

Yorger Junior High's Kitty Cats are now 5-5 for the season, and have another game with Mineral Springs away from home on Thursday evening.

This fall's schedule has been an advantage to Coach Jo Adcock's team, though nearly a two-week stint without a game after Christmas was a problem. After this week's games, the Kitty Cats play Nashville and Springfield on the road next Monday and Tuesday nights.

Likely starters for the Yorger girls will be forwards Janet McCain, Karlene Coleman, and Julia Brown, along with guards Debbie Crank, Betty Honeycutt, and Judy Reynolds.

Against Mineral Springs tonight the Lady Cats will face a very competent opponent with some impressive wins over the same opposition Hope has had troubles with.

Coach Charlotte Gibson's sophomore-juniors squad now is 6-1 for the '69-70 campaign, after a big loss at Gurdon last Thursday night in the tournament there.

The Lady Cats have gotten varied performances from soph forwards Belinda East, Betty Rodden, and Dee Singleton, along with senior co-captain. Those four have done most of the playing on offense.

Defensively, the Ladies have their other senior, Sharon East, along with sophomore Cindy Hollis as permanent starters. Junior Renee Quillen has also played a good bit, along with Sharon Brown.

Hope's "B" Lizards a month ago, handpicked the tough Hornets at Mineral Springs 51-49, and the locals now sport a 5-2 mark.

Coach Willie Tate should start 6-3 soph Lynn Norton at the post, with 6-0 Steve Harris and 6-4 Tim White at forwards. The 4th tenth-grader, 6-0 Tommy Webb, usually shares a guard post with 5-11 Junior Roger Newton.

Mineral Springs owns victories over Class AA Men and 7-A Nashville, and the Hornets have a winning record. They are led by shooters Jim Kever and Terry Bell, and like to play a running game.

The Hope Bobcats' only action this week will be a Saturday night road trip to Camden Lincoln for a rematch with the state champion Tigers, who have to play their arch-rival Fairview the night before.

Jerry West Pulls Ahead in Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Three, plus-30-point games have boosted Los Angeles' Jerry West further ahead in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

West fired in 40 points against San Francisco and 30 and 39 against Seattle last week to boost his league leading average from 31.2 to 31.6, league statistics revealed today.

Billy Cunningham, the runner-up, dropped from 29.1 to 26.8 after a sub-par performance last week. Lou Alcindor of Milwaukee moved into a third-place tie with San Diego's Elvin Hayes, both with 26.6.

40 Is Magic Number for Pistol Pete

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

The magic number is down to 40 for Pete Maravich, thanks to some involuntary ... but overdue ... help from a longtime nemesis.

Maravich, college basketball's most prolific scorer, canned 29 points Monday night, leading Louisiana State to a 71-59 comeback victory over favored Tennessee.

Pistol Pete's point total fell 18 below his season average ... tops in the nation. But it was eight above his high in four previous confrontations with the defense-oriented Vols ... and it left him on the doorstep of an all-time major college career record.

The slender, 6-foot-5 LSU senior needs 40 points in his next start, against visiting Mississippi Saturday night, to surpass the three-year mark of 2,973 set by Oscar Robertson of the University of Cincinnati from 1958-60.

While Maravich, cracking Tennessee's box zone with deadly outside shooting and brilliant floor play, brought the Tigers back from a 32-25 halftime deficit at Baton Rouge, No. 2 ranked Kentucky marked Adolph Rupp's 1,000th game as a coach by tripping visiting Alabama 86-71 in another Southeastern Conference scrap.

Fourth-ranked South Carolina and eighth-ranked North Carolina State, running 1-2 in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference, won handily in the only other games involving Top Ten powers. The Gamecocks, 13-1, ran their ACC mark to 6-0 with a 97-76 romp at Clemson and State, 14-1, blasted visiting American University 107-67 in a non-league game.

Maravich, held to 17, 19, 20 and 21 points in four starts against Tennessee as a sophomore and junior, shot down the Vols with a 12-for-23 accuracy from the floor, hit 5-of-7 free throws, handed off nine assists and grabbed four rebounds.

The victory gave the Tigers a 3-2 SEC record and a season mark of 9-5.

Dan Issel dropped in 29 points as Kentucky, 15-0 over-all and 7-0 in conference play, pulled away from Alabama in the final minutes after the Crimson Tide had trimmed a 29-point deficit to eight. Alabama's Bobby Lynch took game honors with 34 points.

The loss was the Tide's 22nd straight SEC defeat. The league record is 29 by Sewanee from 1935 to 1938.

Kansas State, No. 19 in this week's Associated Press rankings, rebounded from a 66-60 upset loss to Athletes in Action last Saturday night and downed Oklahoma State 71-60 in a Big Eight Conference game.

Elsewhere, Dave Sorenson's 26 points and 21 by Jim Clemons paced Ohio State to a 74-71 nod over Georgia Tech; Minnesota topped Chicago Loyola 85-73 behind Ollie Shannons' 32-point spree; Jeff Petrie potted 39 as Princeton toppled Fordham 69-54 and Georgia, 1-5 outside the SEC, ran its league mark to 7-1 with a 79-76 victory over Mississippi State.

The Green Bay Packers, who obtained the No. 2 pick last week from Chicago for three players, were rumored to be after defensive tackle Mike McCoy of Penn State and Mike McCoy of Notre Dame or defensive end Phil Olsen of Utah State.

The Browns were after a quarterback to back up Bill Nelson. They could choose from among Mike Phipps of Purdue, Dennis Shaw of San Diego State, Bill Cappelman of Florida State and Steve Ramsey of North Texas State.

The Boston Patriots, looking for defensive line help, had the fourth pick, followed in the first round by Buffalo, Philadelphia Cincinnati, St. Louis, San Francisco, New Orleans, Denver, Atlanta, New York Giants, Houston, San Diego, Green Bay (their own pick), San Francisco again (obtained from Washington for tackle Walter Rock), Baltimore, Detroit, New York Jets, Cleveland (their own pick), Los Angeles, Dallas, Oakland, Minnesota and Kansas City's Super Bowl champions.

Other high picks were expected to include Steve Owens, Oklahoma running back and the Heisman Trophy winner; Bob Anderson, Colorado running back; Kenny Burroughs, Texas Southern wide receiver; Steve Zabel, Oklahoma tight end, and John Small, linebacker from The Citadel.

The 26 teams were to draft some 442 players through 17 rounds with the draft lasting at least two days.

Searcy Takes Top Spot in Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten Searcy climbed into the top spot in this week's Associated Press Arkansas high school basketball poll.

The Lions, second last week, replaced Fort Smith Northside in the No. 1 position. Pine Bluff upset Northside last week, handing the Grizzlies their only loss of the year.

Searcy, winner of 20 straight this year, received seven first-place votes from the panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Little Rock Central, third last week, moved into the No. 2 position on the strength of its 12-1 record. Fort Smith Southside and Pine Bluff tied for third.

Others in the top 10 are Northside fifth, Jonesboro Westside sixth, Little Rock McClellan seventh, Blytheville eighth, Camden Lincoln nine and Harrison 10. Camden Lincoln is the only newcomer to the poll, replacing Little Rock Hall, last week's No. 8 team. Hall was upset by Little Rock Horace Mann.

Here are the results of The Associated Press poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. Searcy (7) (20-0)	101
2. LR Central (2) (12-1)	97
3. LR S side (1) (13-2)	82
4. Pine Bluff (1) (14-1)	82
5. FS Northside (9-1)	71

Thinks Zone Defense to Lower Scores

By CHARLIE BAROUH

Associated Press Sports Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — Washington's 7-6 halftime lead in its 37-36 weekend victory over Washington State is an omen of what's to come in college basketball, Huskies coach Tex Winter said Monday.

Winter said in his soft drawl that the increasing use of a zone defense will lead to such low scoring games. But while he was all for something to keep basketball from becoming a snail-paced game, he was against institution of a 24-second clock and elimination of the zone.

"I think the zone is bringing it on," Winter said, "because the way to attack the zone is not to attack it. But you bet I think the zone will bring on more of this."

The zone is a defensive setup in which each man has a specific area to guard, rather than a specific man as in a man-to-man defense.

"I'm sure the rules committee (of the NCAA) will come up with something to take care of it," Winter said. "They think present rules prevent a real slowdown, but they don't. They'll have to come up with something, but what it is I don't know."

"But I'm against putting in the clock," he told Puget Sound sports writers, "because it takes away a method of winning by strategy. If you put in a clock, you have to outlast the zone and I don't want to see that. The zone gives a team with weaker personnel a way of winning by strategy."

Winter also said eliminating the zone would have an effect far beyond the basketball court.

"It would be a situation of the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer," Winter said. "Recruiting would enter into it. With a clock, a lot of teams wouldn't be able to recruit the top runners and shooters you'd have to have to win."

One point to remember, Winter added, is that his team's low-scoring victory was just as close as a 99-98 victory, just as tense, and certainly drew a lot more comment from around the nation.

Winter said that apart from strategy and personnel, another factor was driving teams to the zone. He said a lot of teams are going to the zone to avoid the possible foul trouble and other problems of a man-to-man defense.

UCLA Still Clings to First Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unbeaten UCLA continued to hold forth as the nation's No. 1 college basketball power today with a commanding margin over runner-up Kentucky.

The Bruins, who won twice last week for a 14-0 record, received 29 of 32 first place votes cast in The Associated Press' weekly poll. Unbeaten Kentucky picked up the remaining three — one less than a week ago — from a nationwide panel of sportswriters and sportscasters.

UCLA led the Wildcats in total points, 634-568.

St. Bonaventure, one of two other major college unbeaten, at 12-0, moved up one place to third, with 464 points. The other, 13-0 Jacksonville, remained No. 6, behind South Carolina, which slipped from third to fourth, and New Mexico State, 16-1.

Kentucky boosted its season mark to 15-0 Monday night with an 86-71 victory over Alabama. South Carolina trimmed Clemson 97-76 for a 13-1 mark.

UCLA's next starts are at California and Stanford, Friday and Saturday nights.

Completing the Top Ten were No. 7 Marquette, 13-1; No. 8 North Carolina State, 14-1 after a 107-67 victory over American University Monday night, No. 9 North Carolina, 12-3, and Illinois, 12-2.

Illinois was the only newcomers to the elite list, jumping from 12th to replace Davidson in the 10th spot.

Driver in 2 Crashes in Single Race

By BLOYS BRITT

AP Auto Racing Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Two crashes in one race, two separate cars, and I'm in both of them. It can't happen again, the odds simply are against it."

Tony DeLorenzo of Troy, Mich., was speaking of his experiences last year in the 24 Hours of Daytona, the fifth edition of which will be run here this weekend.

The handsome, bespectacled DeLorenzo is one of two top drivers for a pair of big bore Corvettes Sting Rays campaigning under the banner of the Owens-Corning Fiberglas racing team. He's one of the best amateurs around.

Last year the two Corvettes were running well up with the leaders in America's longest and most grueling race when disaster struck. DeLorenzo was involved in both incidents.

His own car blew a tire and hit the wall on the east bank of Daytona International Raceway shortly after nightfall. The explosion blew one fender off, knocked the bottom off the fuel pump and dumped gasoline onto the already hot engine. The machine caught fire and had to be retired.

DeLorenzo later relieved co-driver Jerry Thompson in the second car, which was then running first in its class. Shortly after midnight, the right front tire blew and carried the white-and-red machine into the retaining barrier, demolishing it.

"The accident occurred at about the same spot on the speedway as the first crash," DeLorenzo recalled today.

"I've probably had more flat tires in races than anyone else around. That's why I say the odds are against such a thing happening again. Bad luck simply can't follow you forever."

DeLorenzo, a business graduate of Notre Dame and holder of a master's degree in public relations from Boston University, will be at the wheel of one of two Vettes entered by Owens-Corning when the 24 Hours gets under way at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Robertson Leads Royals to Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Oscar Robertson is annoyed at the imminent loss of his college scoring records, he isn't letting it affect his National Basketball Association play.

The Big O rattled the Cincinnati Royals from behind in the final 3½ minutes Monday and led them to a 116-115 victory over the Chicago Bulls.

While Robertson was scoring 36 points, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State climbed within 39 of the Big O's major college career scoring mark of 2,973 points.

In other NBA action, Wally Jones' 29 points paced the Philadelphia 76ers over Milwaukee 122-103 and Atlanta trounced San Francisco 131-104.

Robertson scored six key points within 90 seconds as the Royals wiped out a four-point deficit. He put them in front 114-113 with two free throws with 1:17 left and Fred Foster's two foul shots with two seconds remaining clinched it.

Clem Haskins was high for the Bulls with 27 points but missed a shot with five seconds left that could have put them ahead.

The 76ers outscored Milwaukee 32-20 in the third period on the shooting of Jim Washington and Billy Cunningham's rebounding to break open a tight game and snap the Bucks' four-game winning streak.

By losing, the Bucks dropped 5½ games behind New York in the NBA's Eastern Division. Lew Alcindor was high man with 34 points, 26 of them in the first half.

Lon Hatton triggered Atlanta's conquest of San Francisco, connecting on his first 10 shots from the field. He wound up with 36 points, 12 in the first period as the Hawks opened a commanding 37-21 lead.

The Warriors, who lost their fifth game in six outings since Nate Thurmond was sidelined for the season with a knee injury, trailed by 26 points in the third quarter. They cut the deficit to 12 points early in the final stanza before the Western Division leaders pulled away.

Jo Caldwell contributed 23 points to the Atlanta attack while Adrian Smith was high for San Francisco with 17.

Palmer Is Golfer of the Decade

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer began and ended the 1960s winning golf tournaments. That's impressive enough, but it was what happened in between that helped Palmer charge away with the Associated Press' Golfer of the Decade award Monday.

"Winning to me means everything," said Palmer, who stuck the word "charge" in the front of the golfing dictionary.

The long-hitter from Latrobe, Pa., won the 1960 U.S. Open at Denver and ended the decade with a typical rally, coming from six strokes back to capture the Danny Thomas Classic at Miami Dec. 8.

He won four Masters tournaments—three in the 1960s. His 1960 Open victory was his only one, but he tied for three others, and lost in playoffs. He also captured two British Opens among his 60 winning tournaments.

Palmer collected 531½ of the 633 votes from sports writers and broadcasters across the nation. He literally charged away from the field as Jack Nicklaus, the broad-beamed belter from Columbus, Ohio, was a distant second at 75½ votes. One writer put both golfers on the No. 1 ballot.

Bill Casper of San Diego, Calif., and South Africa's Gary Player tied for third with eight votes each, followed by Orville Moody, four; Lee Trevino, three; Frank Beard, Sam Snead and Charlie Sifford, one each.

Nicklaus cut down Palmer in several head-to-head matches. It was the Golden Bear who stole the U.S. Open title from him in a nail-biting playoff victory in 1962.

But it was clearly Arnie's decade—and the ebullient tide of camp followers called Arnie's Army helped him push it through.

Even when their darling slumped, going 14 months without winning a tourney in 1968-69, Arnie's Army never failed him. He rewarded their screaming, chanting fanaticism with dramatic victories at the end of 1969 after a disabling injury.

"Arnie's back," they cried and Palmer whipped off a pair of victories that pushed him over the $100,000 mark for another year.

Palmer became golfing's first millionaire, and it was his personal popularity that helped put money into the game. The Professional Golfers association tour leaped from less than $2 million in 1960 to $7 million in 1969.

Palmer began and ended the 1960s winning golf tournaments. That's impressive enough, but it was what happened in between that helped Palmer charge away with the Associated Press' Golfer of the Decade award Monday.

Opposition to Transfer of Pilots

OAKLAND (AP) — Growing opposition to the proposed transfer of the Seattle Pilots to Dallas-Fort Worth or Milwaukee was reported as American League owners met today to decide what to do with the hotly-debated franchise.

Charles O. Finley, Oakland Athletics president and conference host, said, "American League owners do not want to pull out of Seattle."

Seattle Mayor Wes Uhlman claimed "a strong faction of owners" was against moving the 1-year-old team, but Finley added it was "up to someone in Seattle to turn up an idea."

Ewing M. Kauffman, owner of the Kansas City Royals and chairman of a four-member committee handling the problem, said he felt Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., which bought the franchise for some $5 million in 1969, did not deserve a profit because "They didn't stay in there and pitch."

A figure of at least $8 million has been mentioned as the price of the franchise.

Uhlman said he has drawn up a three-pronged damage suit if the club is moved. The claims would be for breach of lease, city outlay of money and treble damages under antitrust laws.

The Mayor said the club should be required to carry out a five-year agreement.

The Pilots had a financially-troubled season in 1969 but Uhlman pointed out that Kings County, which includes Seattle, has voted a $40 million bond issue to build a domed stadium in order to boost future attendance.

William R. Daley of Cleveland, principal owner of the Pilots, said he thinks the club should be moved to Milwaukee. John Allyn, owner of the Chicago White Sox, agreed.

Milwaukee Brewers, Inc., has been trying to get a franchise ever since its Braves jumped to Atlanta in 1965.

The move to shift the Pilots to Dallas-Fort Worth is headed by Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt, owner of the pro football champion Kansas City Chiefs.

Businessman Fred Danze heads a Seattle group trying to keep the team in the Pacific Northwest.

Meantime, a show cause order in Uhlman's suit to keep the Pilots in Seattle is due for a hearing Thursday.

Romney Really Wants to Run Against Hart

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Michigan Republican reads George W. Romney's near disclaimer of Senate candidacy as a signal the housing secretary, or his wife, really want to run against Democratic incumbent Sen. Philip A. Hart.

Of the four men President Nixon recruited to his Cabinet from the nation's state houses, Romney now appears the most likely to head back into elective politics—personally, or as the husband of a candidate.

If he does not make the race, his wife, Lenore, may—in fact, Romney said Monday she would be the better choice.

The former Michigan governor who now heads the Department of Housing and Urban Development has urged Michigan Republicans to agree on another candidate to become a consensus challenger to Hart.

But in a Monday news conference he did not totally rule out a Senate campaign, for himself or for Mrs. Romney. Only if the party cannot agree on another candidate, Romney said, would Mrs. Romney consider the race.

A leading GOP figure, insisting on anonymity, said the news apparently is that Romney or his wife will be in the running.

Romney's hint of possible availability is likely itself to prove a barrier to a consensus on any other candidate when party officials meet in St. Clair, Mich., Saturday to talk about the coming campaign.

Romney's wife campaigned at his side during his state house races and his short-lived bid for the Republican presidential nomination two years ago.

The party hierarchy is likely to prove reluctant to turn to another candidate while the Romneys remain possible contenders. "They would start with a tremendous advantage," a GOP leader said.

Shaw Trial Judge Termed Innocent

By BILL CHIDER
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The judge who presided at the Clay Shaw trial has been declared innocent of charges that he supplied sex movies and women for a stag party.

Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr., 56, was acquitted Monday night on charges of soliciting for prostitution, obscenity and resisting arrest.

Spectators in the courtroom cheered the verdict by one of Haggerty's colleagues on the Criminal District Court, Judge Matthew S. Braniff. He heard the case without a jury.

It was in Criminal District Court before Judge Haggerty that Shaw, a retired New Orleans businessman, was found innocent last March of a charge by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison that he conspired to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

In Haggerty's own trial, Braniff ruled that the Dec. 17 stag party, at a midtown motel, actually was a private gathering and that police had no "probable cause" to raid it.

Braniff S. Pence, a police undercover agent who has a son on the vice squad, attended the party wearing a tiny radio transmitter with a microphone hidden under his shirt. It broadcast conversations to police outside.

But Judge Braniff ruled that the police had not obtained court authorization for electronic eavesdropping and therefore it was illegal.

Pence testified that Judge Haggerty brought in a sack of sex films and when he discovered that the "chairman of the grill committee" had fallen down on the job, he went out and brought back three women.

Kenneth A. Reeves, an accountant, said it was a private back-lot party organized for him by friends prior to his wedding.

Notes From Professional Golf Trail

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trail:

A recently announced tournament in England, to be sponsored by a cigarette company, could be the cause—just possibly—of a major confrontation between the sponsors and the Tournament Players Division of the PGA.

The tournament, carrying a $180,000 value with $60,000 to the winner, is scheduled the same week as the $100,000—Greater Hartford Open, Sept. 4-7.

"If a lot of the top names go over and Hartford starts objecting, well, the rule is in the book," said Jack Tunhill, tournament director for the Players Division of the PGA.

The regulations and by-laws say, in part:

"No member shall participate in . . . golf events conducted outside North America on dates when tournaments co-sponsored or approved by TPD are scheduled as well, in the judgment of the Commissioner, prejudice the tournament program of the TPD."

Which means it could be a judgment call for Commissioner Joe Dey.

Defending champion Tommy Bolt will be in the field this week for the $40,000 PGA Seniors' Championship, to be played at the PGA National Golf Club in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla.

Some of his chief competition is expected to come from Sam Snead, three-time winner of the event, Paul Runyan last year's runnerup, and Pete Fleming.

Ron Cerrudo, a solid youngster playing out of Napa, Calif., is ready to make a move any time.

Cerrudo ranked fourth on the list for stroke average last year at 70.57. He was beaten in that category only by Dave Hill, Frank Beard and Gary Player.

But Ron finished only 52nd on the money list at $35,861.

And in 1968, incidentally, his stroke average was sub-70 but he again finished far back in money winnings.

Texan Picked As the Most Courageous

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "You just have to be realistic and take what comes along in life."

So said Fred Steinkamp last night as he stood leaning on his crutches and accepted the unique Most Courageous Athlete of the Year award presented annually by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association.

A birthday cake in recognition of his 21st birthday today was on a table next to the rostrum, candles burning brightly in the darkened ballroom. "I am awed that I might be considered on a list of such courageous sportsmen," Steinkamp said, referring to such past recipients as pro football's Jerry Kramer, basketball's Mickey Mantle, basketball's Maurice Stokes, blind golfer Charley Boswell, former Brooklyn Dodger's catcher Roy Campanella, golf's Ben Hogan etc.

Steinkamp is the University of Texas defensive safety, who two days after the Longhorns defeated Arkansas, was discovered to have bone cancer and had to have his left leg removed at the hip joint.

Steinkamp called defensive secondary signals that set up 27 pass interceptions and helped Texas finish unbeaten, ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Also honored at the 66th annual banquet of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association were Tom Seaver, 25 game winner of the world champion New York Mets, as the outstanding professional athlete of the year, and Steve Owens, Oklahoma's great running back, as the top amateur athlete of the year.

Forrest City Files Plan on Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Forrest City School Board's plan for the total integration of its schools was filed Monday in U.S. District Court.

The plan calls for elementary school pupils to attend schools on the basis of three attendance zones. Students in grades seven through nine would be assigned to formerly all-Negro Lincoln Junior-Senior High School and high school students would be sent to what is now Sam Smith Junior High and Forrest City Senior High School.

American Wins Grand Slalom

NEW ASHFORD, Mass. (AP) — Gerhard Hopfenberger of Stratton Mountain, Vt., won the second annual $1,000 Jim Kelly Invitational grand slalom at Brodie Mountain Ski area Monday night.

The winner, timed in 71.56, collected $400.

California May Take Over Horse Racing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California is considering taking over the horse racing business, a prospect termed "quite revolutionary" by the owners of strike-bound tracks.

The California Horse Racing Board suggested Tuesday legislation which would empower it to continue racing during union-management negotiations if a strike seemed likely.

Under the proposal, the board would create a trusteeship to operate the tracks. It would be discontinued following a settlement but "if no agreement can be reached within a reasonable time, this trusteeship will continue racing operations at all race plants" with the profits going to the state.

The meeting was held to consider the impact of the strike which began Dec. 26, the day thoroughbred racing at Santa Anita and harness racing at Bay Meadows were scheduled to begin.

About 2,000 pari-mutuel clerks, janitors and other attendants at the two tracks have been striking for higher wages. The strike has already cost the state an estimated $4.5 million in tax revenue.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Menstrual Passage Of Clots Is Normal
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What would cause a woman, 20, not to menstruate for six months? Her doctor says she is not pregnant.

A—Several other readers have recently asked me this same question. The causes include severe malnutrition, anemia, tuberculosis, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, diseases of the thyroid or pituitary glands and chronic poisoning with lead, mercury or alcohol.

Q—What would cause me to have slight spotting of blood midway between menstrual periods?

A—This may be due to an ovarian tumor or a hormonal imbalance. You should have your doctor determine the cause.

Q—What causes blood clots in the menstrual flow accompanied by severe cramps? Is there anything I can do to prevent this?

A—The passage of clots occurs frequently enough to be considered normal in some girls. The cramps or dysmenorrhea are related to a tear of menstruation but other causes should be ruled out. These include pelvic infection, endometriosis and diseases of the ovaries. Elimination of the cause should bring lasting relief. Meanwhile, a hot pad and pain killers are your best bet.

Q—Would it be harmful for my daughter 15 to use tampons?

A—No.

Q—What is Hirschsprung's disease? What can be done for it?

A—Persons with this disease have a congenital narrowing of the colon. It is aggravated by failure to go to stool at the first urge. In persons with this disease, tap water enemas should be used.

Sale Practices of Magazines Under Probe

By JOHN S. LANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Fred B. Rooney said today a federal grand jury is being convened to examine sales practices of five magazine subscription agencies.

Rooney, a Pennsylvania Democrat whose office has been conducting its own investigation of magazine sales, said the grand jury would meet in Des Moines, Iowa, on Feb. 17. He said the jury probe will center on five subsidiaries of Cowles Communications, Inc.

A Justice Department spokesman, however, declined to pinpoint Cowles as the target of the investigation.

"The department is looking into magazine subscription sales generally and possible violation of postal regulations," he said. "It may involve Cowles but it could be much broader."

A Cowles spokesman declined immediate comment.

In a statement, Rooney said the sales organizations to be probed, all headquartered in Des Moines and conducting business nationwide, are Civic Reading Club, Home Reader Service, Educational Book Club, Mutual Readers League and Home Reference Library.

He said his investigation centered on such practices as: — Altering the terms of a contract without telling the subscriber.

— Using coupon payment books containing more coupons than the number of payments to be made under terms of the contract.

— Misrepresenting the price or the reason for the price of magazines.

— Entering names on contracts without the subscribers' knowledge.

— Inducing minors, illiterates, mentally retarded and blind persons to purchase subscriptions.

In addition, Rooney said his probe had prompted the Federal Trade Commission to make an extensive nationwide investigation of deceptive practices in magazine selling. "I expect the FTC will file formal actions against a number of major subscription sales agencies," he said.

What and Why in Dispute Over Issue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What is at stake? A $19.7-billion appropriations bill to provide funds for fiscal 1970 to the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

It was passed by large majorities in both House and Senate.

Why the dispute? Congress added nearly $1.3 billion to President Nixon's budget requests, mainly for education and for health research. Nixon, calling the increases inflationary, vetoed the measure Monday night before a nationwide television audience.

What are the issues? The most immediate, political issue is the $400-billion increase voted in funds for so-called impacted areas—school districts with enrollments swollen by the children of federally employed workers. A majority of Congress members have some such schools in their states or districts. More broadly, Democratic leaders argue that the principle of national priorities is at stake and if cuts must be made they should come from military spending. What action is likely? Democratic leaders want to override the veto. Republicans hold the key because a two-thirds majority in each chamber is required to override and if GOP members back Nixon the veto will be sustained. The House is scheduled to vote Wednesday on the veto. If it is sustained, Congress then either must pass a new bill or authorize continued spending for the remainder of the fiscal year at the rates which prevailed last year. The agencies have been operating since last July 1 under a temporary resolution.

Boa Constrictor Hides in Home

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — A three-foot pet boa constrictor named Adam, about due for his fortnightly feeding, is slithering around the floors of an apartment house and has so far foiled attempts by his owner and police to lure him out.

Adam, apparently seeking a warm place, crawled into a heater duct shortly after Mary Rees, 16, brought the snake to her second floor apartment from a pet shop two weeks ago.

He's been there ever since, and is about due for his biweekly repast of a live white mouse. One policeman has suggested Miss Rees put a live mouse in front of the heating duct to lure Adam out.

PERRY PUPS and a curious kitten are among the sea-faring pets to be found aboard boats moored at the municipal marina in St. Petersburg, Fla. Seagull cats date back to ancient times when their antics were the subject of many sailor's superstitions.

Draft Boards Bow to Order of Court

By STAN BENJAMIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System has suspended its long-time practice of reclassifying and drafting violators of its regulations, in the wake of recent Supreme Court decisions.

The suspension also apparently negates a controversial recommendation by draft Director Lewis B. Hershey that antiwar demonstrators be drafted if they violate the law.

A spokesman disclosed Monday local draft boards were directed last week to suspend all processing of cases under the system's delinquency regulation pending "the termination of what action should be taken" as a result of a Jan. 19 Supreme Court decision.

That decision appeared to invalidate the delinquency regulation.

A second court decision, issued only Monday, states even more clearly that "induction pursuant to the delinquency regulation has not been authorized by Congress."

Selective Service lawyers had no immediate comment on the second decision.

Under the regulation, a draft registrant could be declared delinquent, classified 1-A and ordered for immediate induction for failing to perform such required duties as carrying his draft card and reporting a change of address.

Monday's 6-2 court decision upheld the right of Timothy J. Breen to challenge his reclassification to 1-A because the delinquency regulation was legally unauthorized.

Accused Slayer's Wife Called Before Jury

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —

Annette Gilly, wife of a house painter accused in the Joseph Yablonski family slayings, was expected to be among the first called today before a grand jury investigating the case.

She was among 20 witnesses summoned to the hearing, expected to last four or five days, into the gunshot deaths of the United Mine Workers Insurgent, 59; his wife, Margaret, 57, and daughter, Charlotte Joanne, 25.

Meanwhile, U.S. Attorney Robert B. Krupansky would not confirm reports that a 30-caliber M1 carbine found in a river near Yablonski's Washington County, Pa., home, was used in the slayings.

The Yablonskis were fatally shot in their home Dec. 31.

Divers continued to search the Monongahela River, less than five miles from the home, reportedly for a .38-caliber pistol.

Yablonski was killed shortly after a bitter election campaign in which he sought to unseat UMW President W.A. "Tony" Boyle.

Krupansky said no union official had been called before the jury.

troops are stockpiling arms and ammunition for a new offensive, allied headquarters reported capture of three large caches, two north of Saigon and the third in the central highlands. They contained a total of 147 rifles, eight heavy weapons, more than 600 rockets and grenades and more than 10,000 rounds of small arms ammunition.

Allied forces reported killing 59 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in a half dozen clashes Monday ranging from the southern Mekong Delta to jungles near the Cambodian border north of Saigon.

Allied casualties were three Americans and five South Vietnamese killed and three Americans and 18 South Vietnamese wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 10 civilians were killed and six wounded today when a three-wheel bus hit a mine on a road in the Mekong Delta.

In a weekly report, the South Vietnamese government said 57 civilians were killed or assassinated by the Viet Cong in the Jan. 14-21 period, 35 fewer than the previous week.

A total of 111 persons were wounded, 153 less than the previous week and 84 were abducted, down 21 from the week earlier.

Since the beginning of the year, South Vietnamese statistics show 224 civilians killed, 581 wounded and 210 kidnaped by the Viet Cong.

"Just the ordinary Joe, Mary and Tom have expressed themselves more to me on this issue than on all other issues combined," said M. C. Lewis Jr. of Hot Springs in support of Hogan. "We are playing political suicide with the constitution we propose."

The convention defeated 17-70 an amendment by Charles Garner of Midland that would have combined the Game and Fish Commission with the Parks, Recreation and Travel Commission and the Forestry Commission.

A proposal to exempt fish farmers and other groups from the control of the Game and Fish Commission failed by seven votes of obtaining the 51 votes needed for passage and the delegates then voted to reconsider it Tuesday.

Vicious Circle Postal Corporation Nixon Tells 'Em

One day last week the Arkansas AP wire carried this ironic item: Pine Bluff has received a federal grant of $80,000 for emergency ambulance service.

Note the sequence of events: Federal bureau push up ambulance service costs until private operators find they can't live with them, and quit.

The community is then forced to set up an emergency public service.

And the same federal government which put private operators out of business advances $80,000 for the public service.

Without, of course, consulting the taxpayers whose money was spent to draw this vicious circle.

The week-end news brought encouragement to those of us who would like to see the Post Office Department taken out of the hands of Congress and placed under an independent public corporation which the politicians couldn't touch.

The public corporation idea has been endorsed by the Postmaster General under both Democratic and Republican administrations for decades, running back at least to James Farley, postal chief under Franklin Delano Roosevelt in the 1930's, as I recall.

Much of the public suspected that opposition to the corporation plan came mainly from the postal workers' union, but, as this writer has pointed out, a close examination of the record fixes the blame for the postal mess upon Congress.

It is Congress which has made a political pawn of the postal service, its administrators and workers. Congressmen like to hang onto authority over the Post Office Department because, (1) The present setup enables congressmen seeking election to pick up campaign contributions from merchandising companies expecting favored treatment on third class ("junk mail") rates, and (2) With the Congress dictating wage scales in the Post Office Department every incumbent congressman who obliges the postal union with wage hikes has guaranteed himself a captive bloc of votes when he comes up for re-election.

If you think the situation is entirely pleasing to the postal union you had better make a second guess. Over the week-end it was disclosed that the postal union has arrived at a wage agreement with the backers of the public corporation plan and now endorse it in preference to remaining the slave of the politicians in Congress.

Good news, indeed, for it means the United States may finally be on the way toward postal reform.

In his television-radio address to the nation Monday night President Richard M. Nixon made good on his campaign promise to attempt to solve the No. 1 problem afflicting America—the problem of inflation.

If you look up Monday afternoon's editorial titled "Tough Decision," written and published several hours before the address was delivered, you will realize that your editor anticipated the President's message fairly accurately.

But it took no crystal ball to guide the writing of Monday's column.

It is a message this editor has been sending out for decades. Specifically, it was the platform on which Nixon ran and was elected in November 1968.

It took great courage to veto the 20-billion-dollar HEW bill, but the President is a man of courage—and my guess is that on reconsideration the Congress will show equal courage and sustain his veto.

Either that, or the cost of living will continue sky-rocketing until the dollar becomes worthless and the people lose what remains of their confidence in the government of this republic.

Withdrawal of 50,000 Starts Wed.

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The withdrawal of 50,000 more American troops from Vietnam will begin Wednesday, the U.S. Command said today, with the departure from Da Nang of some Marine aviators and fighter-bombers.

By Sunday, 3,000 Marines from 19 different units will be gone. The third round of withdrawals ordered by President Nixon is scheduled to be completed by April 15 and will reduce the ceiling on U.S. troop strength in Vietnam to 434,000 men.

The main units being withdrawn this week are Fighter Attack Squadron 542 and Attack Squadron 223. They will go to the Marine Air Base at El Toro, Calif. Heavy Helicopter Squadron 361 is being returned to Santa Ana, Calif., and the 3rd Amphibious Tractor Vehicle Battalion to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The rest of the Marines will go to Camp Pendleton, and 11 of their units will be deactivated.

There was no word on when the major combat units in the withdrawal—the 1st Infantry Division, the 26th Marine Regiment and the 3rd Brigade of the 4th Infantry Division—would begin pulling out. They probably will remain until after the festival of lunar new year, Feb. 6-8, so they will be available if enemy attacks increase as expected during the holiday period.

Viet Cong troops pulled off a bold ambush Monday night against an American supply convoy only seven miles east of Saigon. The attack occurred on Highway 1A leading from the capital to the U.S. Army's logistics base at Long Binh, 15 miles to the northeast. It is probably the busiest highway in South Vietnam, and it was the first ambush on it in a year.

The only casualty was one Vietnamese civilian wounded. A commercial truck was destroyed, and the U.S. Command said there was light damage to U.S. military police jeeps escorting the convoy.

If You Think All That Goes Up Comes Down You Don't Pay Taxes

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The dandelion should be America's national flower. It has many of the virtues we like to think of as typically American. It is bold and pioneering, gregarious and democratic, growing with equal grace on the lawns of the poor and the rich, only pretentious snobs disdain its yellow glory just because it is free to all.

Labor, Civil Rights Alliance Forms Again to Oppose Carswell

By JOHN CHADWICK

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Tallahassee, Fla., swore today at a hearing on his nomination to be a Supreme Court justice that "I have no notions, secretive, open or otherwise, of racial superiority."

"I am not a racist," he told the Senate Judiciary Committee in repudiating a new white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago as a candidate for the Georgia legislature.

Carswell also testified that he had never been an officer nor director nor had anything to do with the incorporation of a country club in Tallahassee that had taken over a municipal golf course after a 1955 Supreme Court ruling that municipal recreation facilities must be desegregated.

This was in reply to published reports that he was a director of the Capital City Country Club that acquired the course a few months after the court's ruling and that operated on a racially segregated basis.

The 50-year-old southerner, now a judge on the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, testified that he has never been an officer or director of any country club anywhere. He remarked that he is not even a golfer.

However, Carswell said that sometime in 1956 at the request of a friend he had agreed to subscribe $100 for the repair of what he referred to as a wooden country club. He said $75 of this was refunded to him in February of 1957 and that he was not even a member of the club.

The questions about the country club and the white supremacy speech Carswell made in 1948 were put by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., the top ranking GOP member of the Judiciary Committee soon after Carswell was sworn as a witness by Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The political speech that Carswell made as a candidate for the Georgia legislature was brought to light from old newspaper accounts last week after President Nixon nominated Carswell for the nation's highest court.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said today he talked with Carswell Monday and told Carswell "I think the 1948 speech was a foolish statement. Scott added:

"He said to me 'It was an unwise statement of my earlier days and I repudiate it and I am no racist.'"

"I said to him 'Judge, if there is a single senator who has not made a foolish statement, then I'll have to take a new census.'"

AFL-CIO President George Meany, speaking out on the eve of today's opening of Senate hearings on the nomination, said Carswell "does not meet the high standards requisite for Supreme Court membership."

Sen. William Proxmire also fired a broadside at the 50-year-old judge in a speech prepared for delivery to the Senate today. The Wisconsin Democrat said Carswell was a judge whose credentials "are distinguished by their mediocrity."

Civil rights groups already were on record with strong opposition to Carswell. They fought his nomination when he was elevated to the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals last June.

Critics of the nomination were armed with the disclosures that Carswell gave a political speech in 1948 pledging life-long devotion to white supremacy and that while U.S. attorney for northern Florida he served as a director of a segregated country club.

Convention Retains G&F Status

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Constitutional Convention had a change of heart today and voted, on reconsideration, to remove fish and bird farmers from the control of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission.

The convention had voted Monday to retain the constitutional status of the commission and to permit it to continue regulating fish farmers.

The proposal to exempt fish and bird farmers from the commission's control failed Monday by seven votes of obtaining the 51 necessary votes for passage. Notice of reconsideration was given, however.

The vote on reconsideration today represented a big victory for the Arkansas Fish Farmers Association, which has fought for months to have its industry taken from the G&F's control. The association contended that the commission hindered the operation of fish farmers in the state, and that the industry should be controlled by the Agriculture Department.

The vote today was 51-40. The section does, however, give the commission authority to investigate any operation that endangers the wildlife of the state.

"We are not trying to get out of regulations," said Delegate Sammy Weems of Des Arc. "We are trying to create some flexibility. This will allow our people to take advantage of any programs that may come up in the future."

Monday the delegates rejected a plea by John Elrod of Riscon to merge the commission and the state Forestry Commission into a Department of Natural Resources, which would have been charged with control of air, water and soil pollution.

Elrod also objected to the maintenance of constitutional status for the Game and Fish Commission.

"I simply believe state agencies should be state agencies," he said. "They ought not to have their separate kingdoms."

Under the Elrod amendment, beaten 16-71, the General Assembly would provide for a

Gas Fire in Java Leaves 55 Dead

JAKARTA (AP) — Fifty-five persons were killed and another 41 seriously burned in the central Java port town of Semarang when fire roared through a crowd collecting gasoline from a leaking pipeline, police reported today.

They said most of the injured were expected to die. More than 100 persons were packed around the leaking pipe when the gasoline suddenly erupted into flame.

Nineteen men, women and children died in the first searing blast of flame. A sea breeze fanned the fire and it spread quickly across the gasoline-soaked ground as the flames roared to soap.

Gasoline spilled from thick buckets and caught fire, burning nearly everyone into blazing, screaming human torches.

No-Knock Raid Bill Foes Deflated

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans have moved to deflate an attack on the most hotly debated section of the administration's tough drug control bill—the no-knock narcotics raid clause.

Senate GOP whip Robert P. Griffin moved Monday to take some of the steam out of the opposition by proposing an amendment making warrants for the no-warning raids more difficult to obtain.

The Michigan senator said his measure would require federal agents to prove not only that narcotics were suspected on the premises to be raided, but would likely be destroyed if police gave prior warning, such as by knocking.

The attack on the original clause, which Griffin said required less stringent proof that the narcotics would be destroyed, was led by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C.

The colorful Ervin quoted law, poetry, scripture and his lawyer father in contending such raids violate the Constitution, create a possible police-state tool and subvert a citizen's right to regard his home as his castle.

After a weekend change of heart, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., became the provision's chief defender, contending surprise raids, under proper court authority, are essential to prevent evidence from being destroyed and to curb what he called "this awful, illicit, illegal, immoral drug trade."

Ervin's amendment to strike the provision from the bill entirely was thwarted—at least temporarily—by Griffin's substitution.

Griffin said his amendment had been accepted in advance by the Nixon administration and the Justice Department, the agency which has been most actively seeking its inclusion in the final bill.

McLarty to Tell About Special Vote

Fred Ellis, newly elected president of Hempstead County Industrial Foundation, has appointed Mack McLarty of Hope to head a committee to inform the voters of Hempstead County about the Special Election to be held Tuesday, February 3.

The election concerns Arkansas Industrial Development Revenue Bonds (called "Act No. 9 Bonds") for the purpose of financing the cost of developing industry.

The Act No. 9 Bonds will not be general obligations of the County, but will be special obligations payable solely from Project revenues, including particularly lease rental derived from the leasing of the Project by the County to Missouri Research Laboratories, Inc. (Standard Generator Co.) which will be specifically pledged to the payment of the principal and of interest on the Act No. 9 Bonds and the Act No. 9 Bonds will be secured by a lien on and security interest in the Project, as authorized by Act No. 9.

Company officials said that the passage of the bond issue would create 150 to 200 new jobs.

McLarty's committee was appointed to stimulate interest in the election and obtain a large favorable vote which will improve other industries to locate in the Hope area.

The committee will meet Wednesday, January 26 at 10 a.m. in the Hope Chamber of Commerce office.

The following were appointed by McLarty to serve with him on this committee: Hubert Thrash, Robert Dennis, Charles Sharpe, Jr., Phillip Tenney, Rufus Herndon III, Larry Patterson.

Failure of Education Program Blamed on Poor Administration

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate committee says shortcomings in a major federal program to help educate poor children have been caused by improper administration.

The Labor and Public Welfare Committee said, however, it is confident the 5-year-old program still can be a great success, and it proposed legislative steps to improve deployment of the aid.

The views are in a report to the Senate of a $35 billion bill extending the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act and some other programs for four years.

A large section of the report was devoted to Title I of the act, which gets by far the largest share of the funds—it has received $4.3 billion since 1965.

The funds, intended to improve educational opportunities for children from disadvantaged families, are allocated on the basis of the number of pupils from poverty-level families in a school district.

The committee said it knew there had been many complaints.

"A review of the facts available to the committee indicates that one of the primary weaknesses in the Title I program is attributable to the administration of the program at the state and federal levels, and not the legislation," the report said.

The committee listed some of the same criticisms made by civil rights organizations and education groups.

These include charges that the funds have been used merely to supplant state and local money instead of for additional projects as the law directs, that excessive amounts have been used for construction, that the funds have been directed to maintenance of segregated school systems and that the funds have been spent to serve the general needs of all pupils and not specifically to help those from poor families.

The committee said with the aid of some new tools in the pending bill and with proper administration, it should be possible to end these shortcomings.

Amendments include:

—A stronger prohibition against using the federal money to supplant state and local funds.

—A requirement that interested persons be given a chance to present their views at state and local levels.

—A requirement for parental and community involvement in the planning and development of projects.

—A revision of the formula for allocation of the money to include many more children.

As Promised Nixon Vetoes Education Bill

By WALTER H. MEARS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — When a dramatic and unprecedented televised veto, President Nixon has rejected a budget-boosting $19.7 billion education-health money bill, warning "we can spend ourselves poor."

Nixon told the national radio-TV audience Monday night the appropriation though politically popular was "the wrong amount for the wrong purpose and at the wrong time."

"The issue," the President said during the 11-minute speech, "is not whether some of us are for education and health and others against it. . . The question is: How much can the federal government afford to spend on these programs this year?"

Then, after listing the reasons he said counted against the appropriation that exceeded his recommendations by $1.26 billion, Nixon, with the TV camera focused tightly on his right hand, signed the veto message — the first of his administration.

Never before had a President wielded his veto pen before television cameras. And it seemed unlikely any bill ever made so swift a round trip between Capitol Hill and the White House—less than a day.

In reaching past the Democratic-controlled Congress to argue his case before the nation, Nixon assured a White House-Capitol Hill showdown.

The confrontation has been building for more than a month, since Congress first defied Nixon on protests and fashioned the $19.7 billion appropriation for the departments of Health, Education and Welfare, Labor and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Final congressional action came Monday in the House, which settled a side issue by voice vote and rushed the contested appropriation on to the President.

Nixon's retort was swift. As he has from the beginning, Nixon called the appropriation inflationary. And as they have from the beginning, Democrats insisted it is not.

Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey restated a Democratic contention that Congress actually cut the Nixon budget by $5 billion, even counting the increased health and education spending. Humphrey said the appropriation "is clearly not inflationary," and urged Congress to override the veto.

It will take a two-thirds vote in both the House and Senate to override Nixon.
